

Health in emergencies

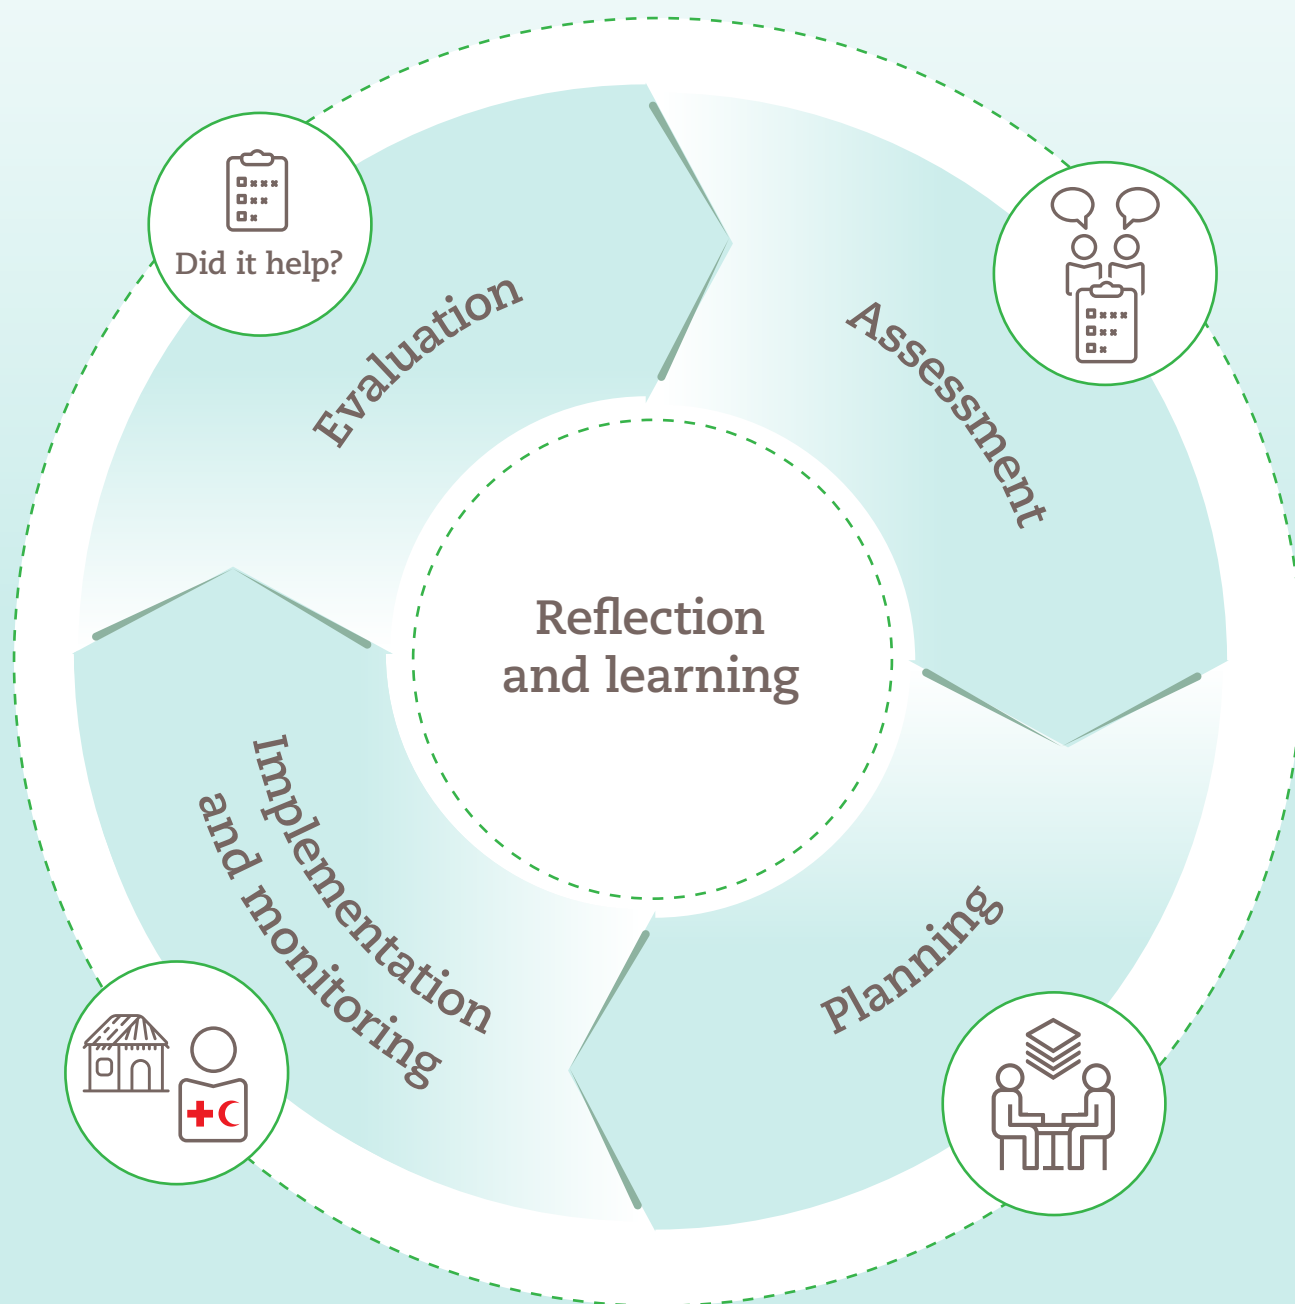

Topic tools

International Federation
of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies
www.ifrc.org Saving lives, changing minds.

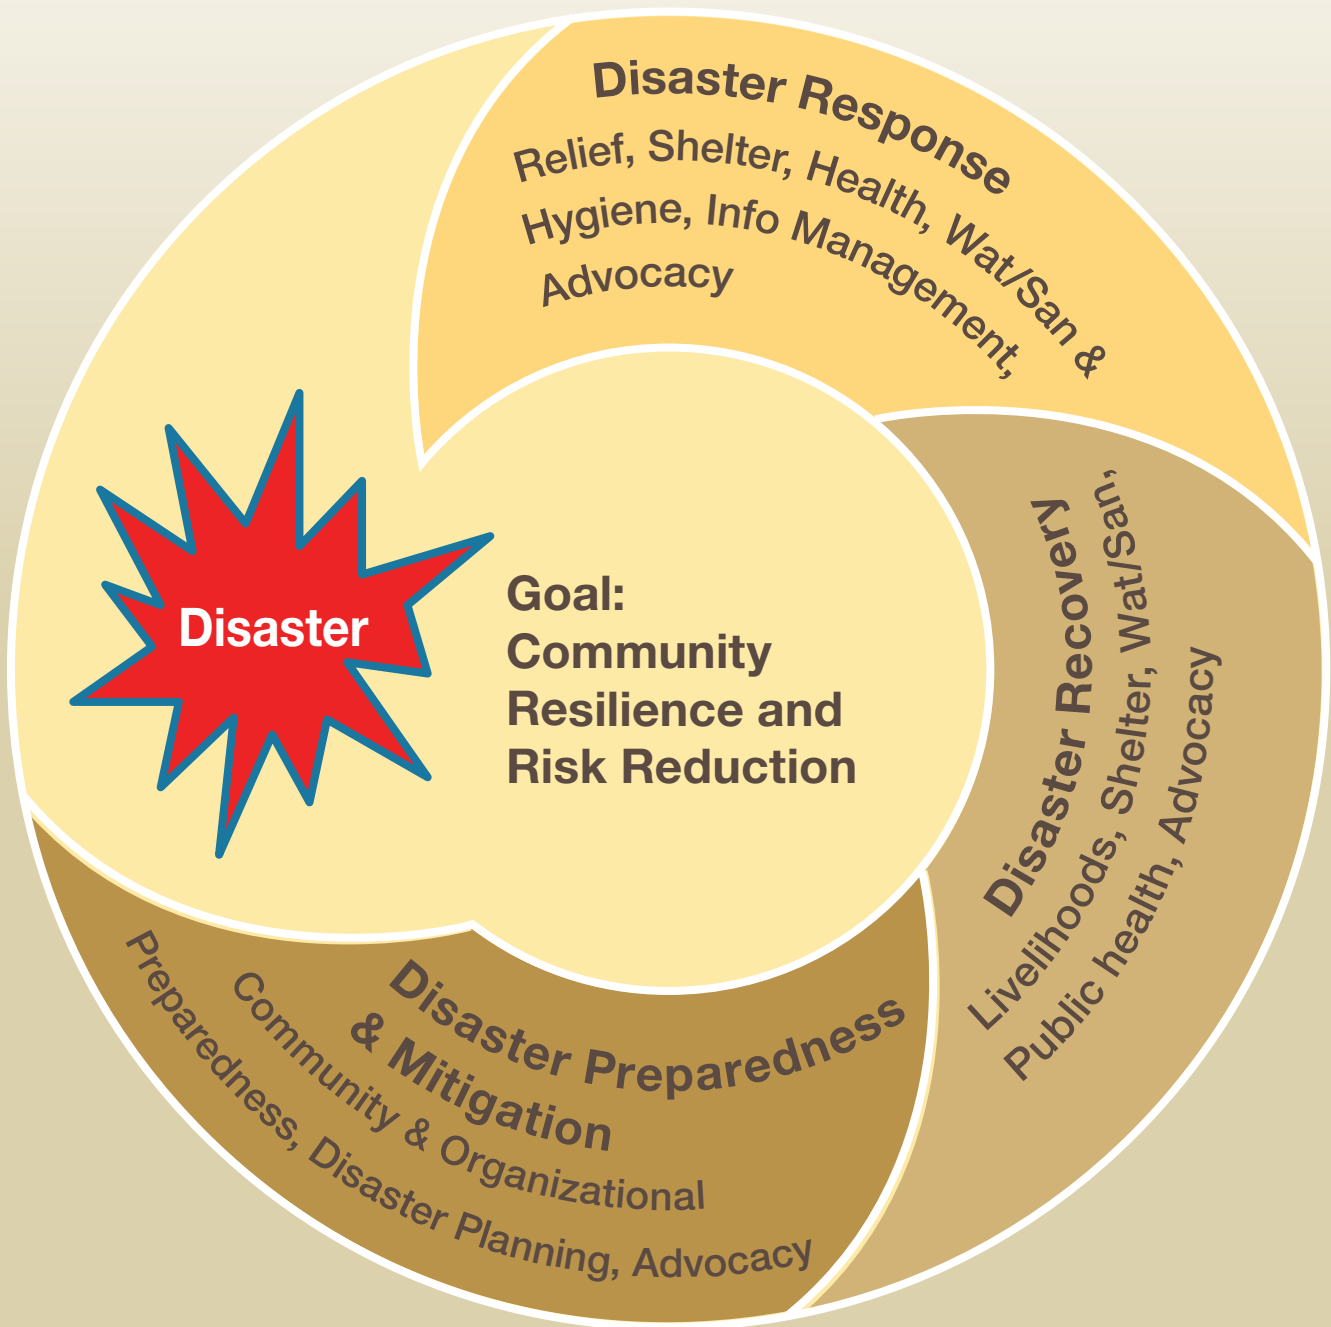

Programme cycle

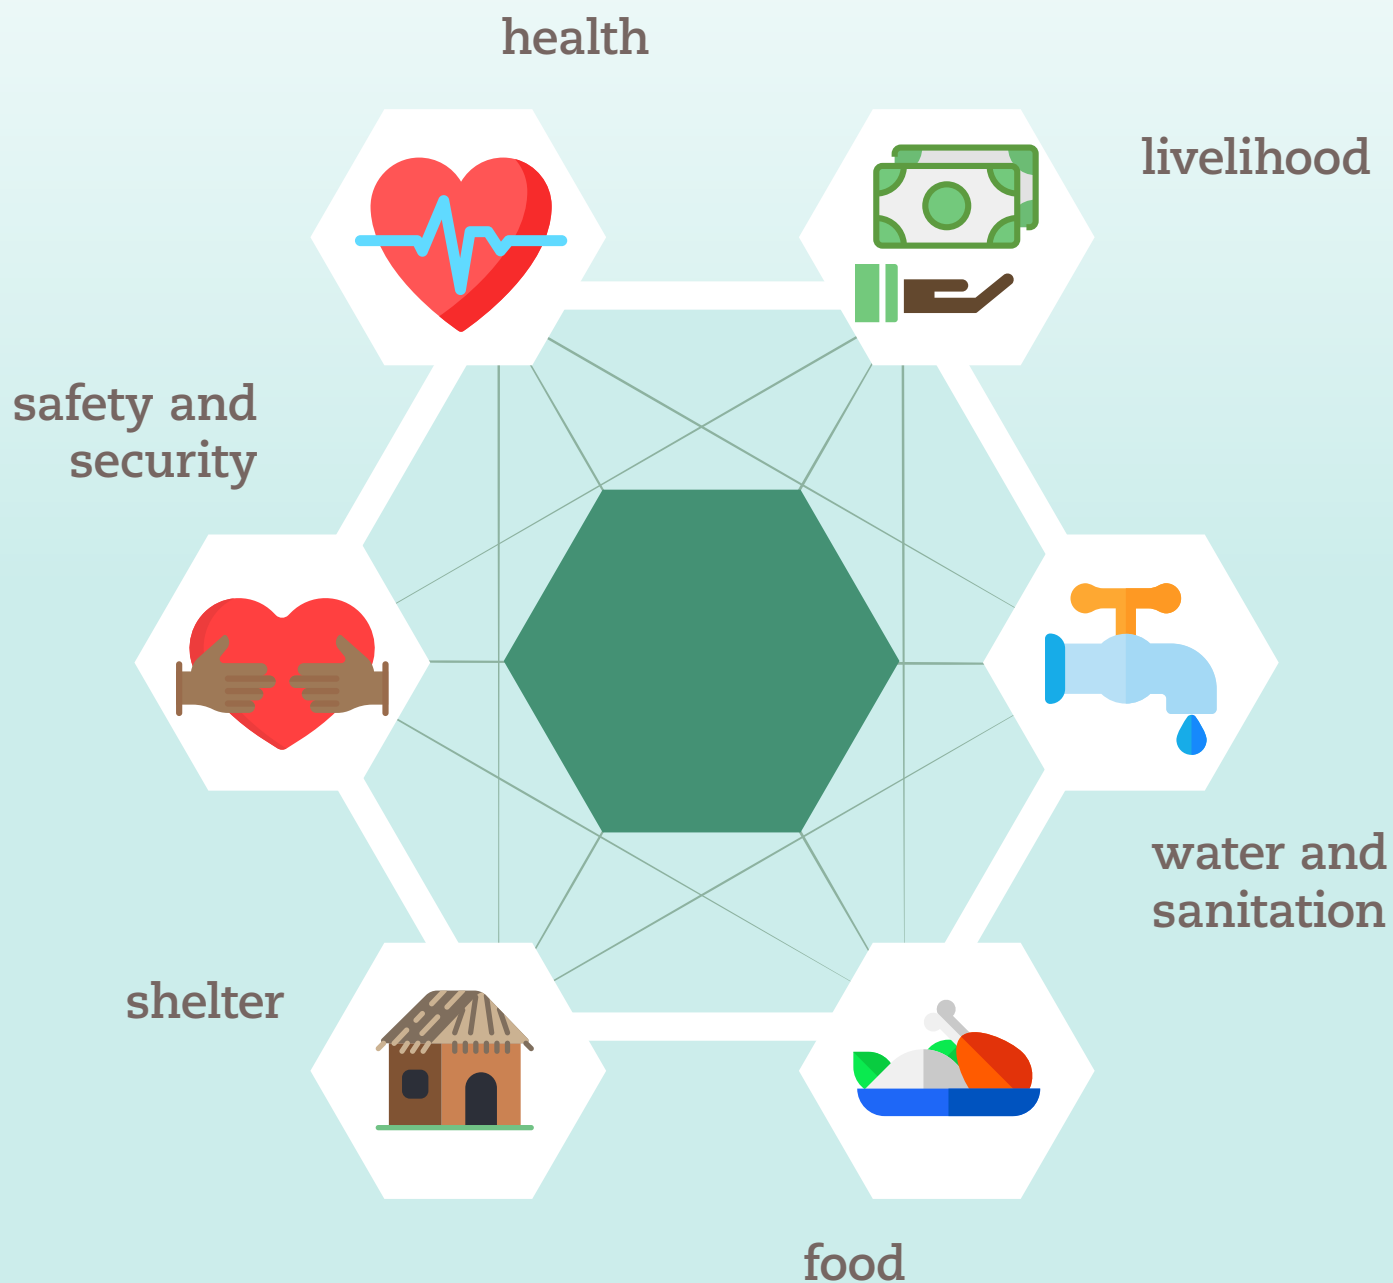

Disaster cycle

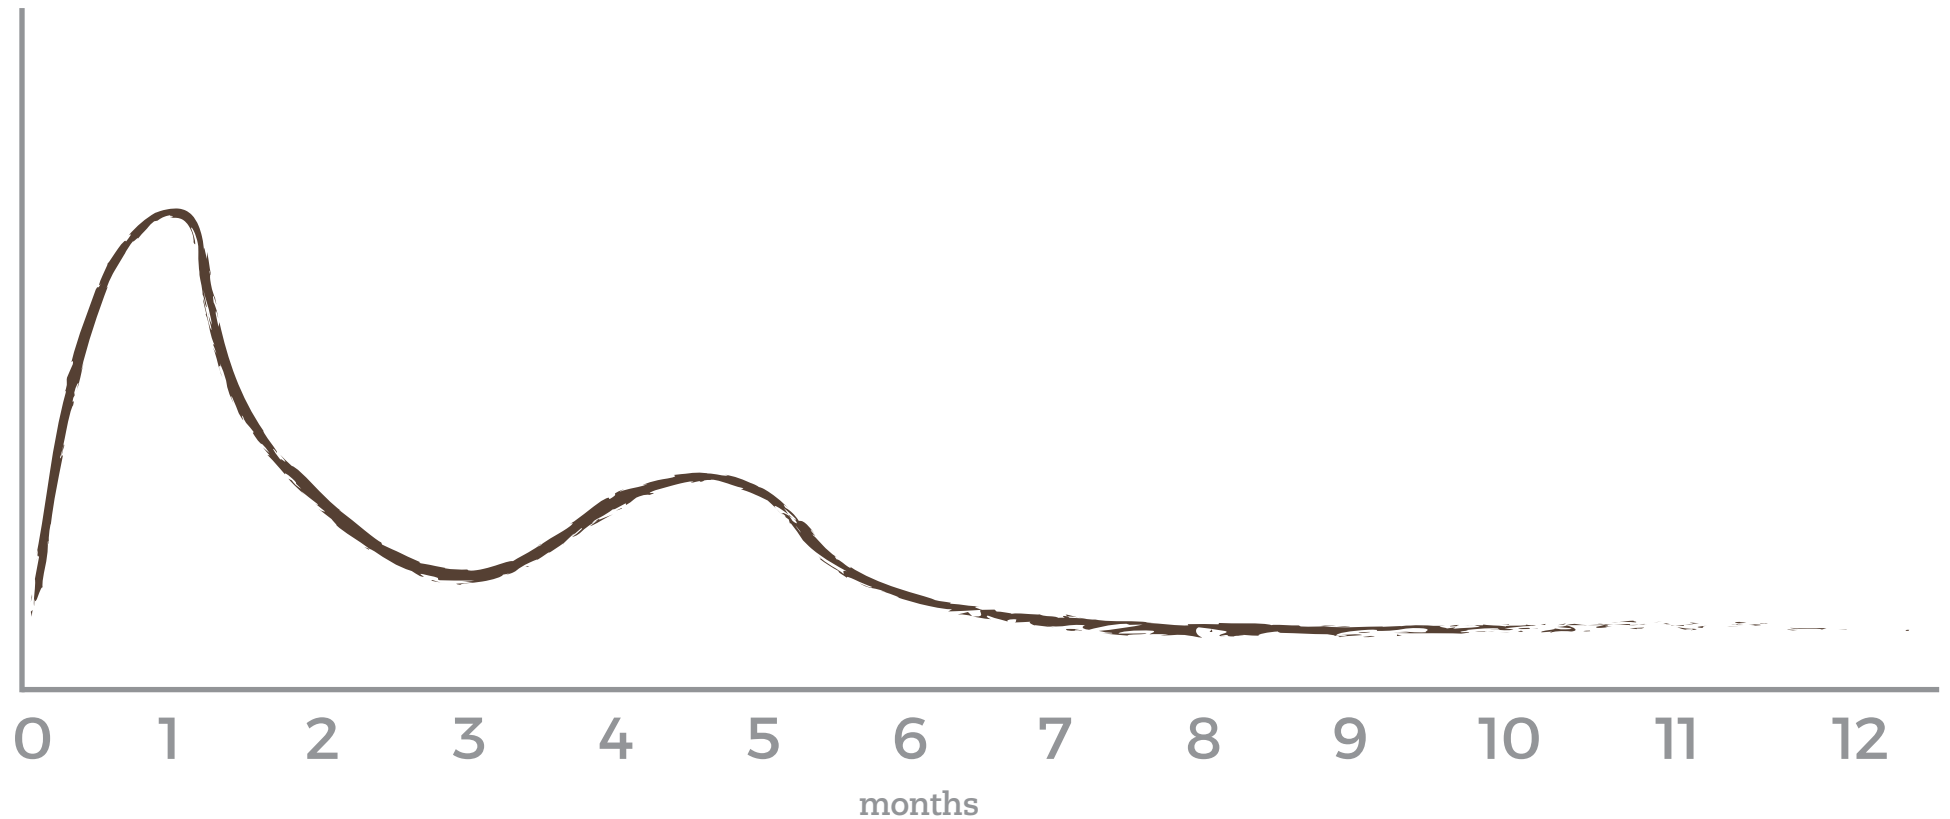

Needs for healthy living

The immediate aftermath

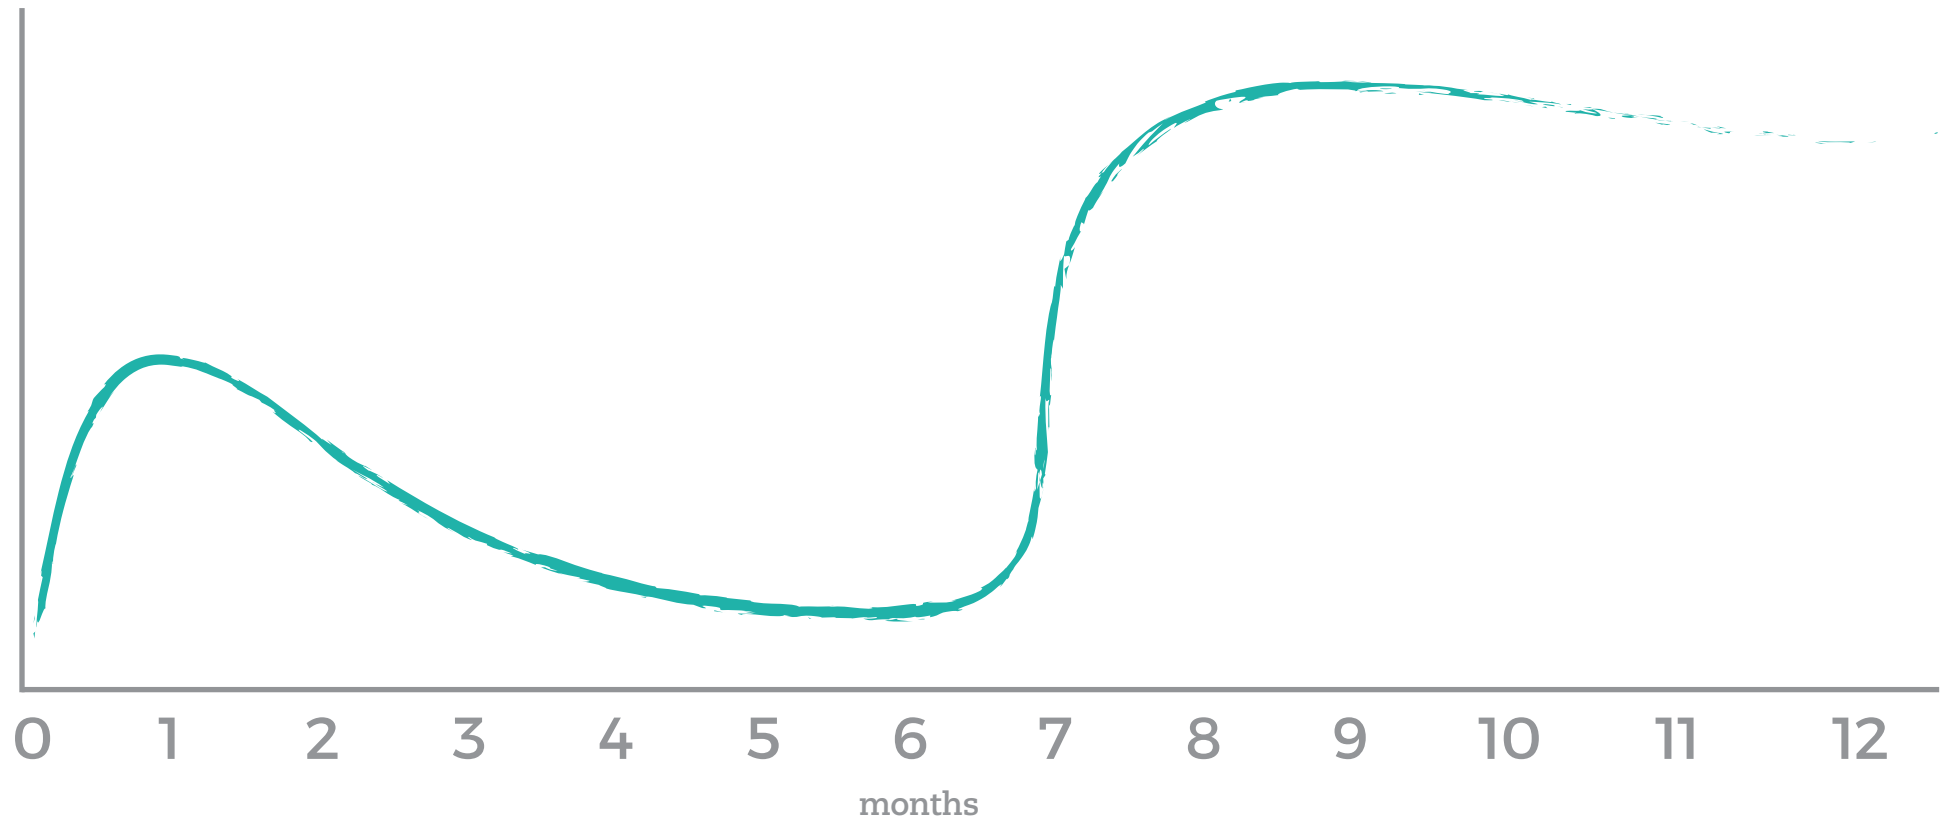

First Aid

The immediate aftermath

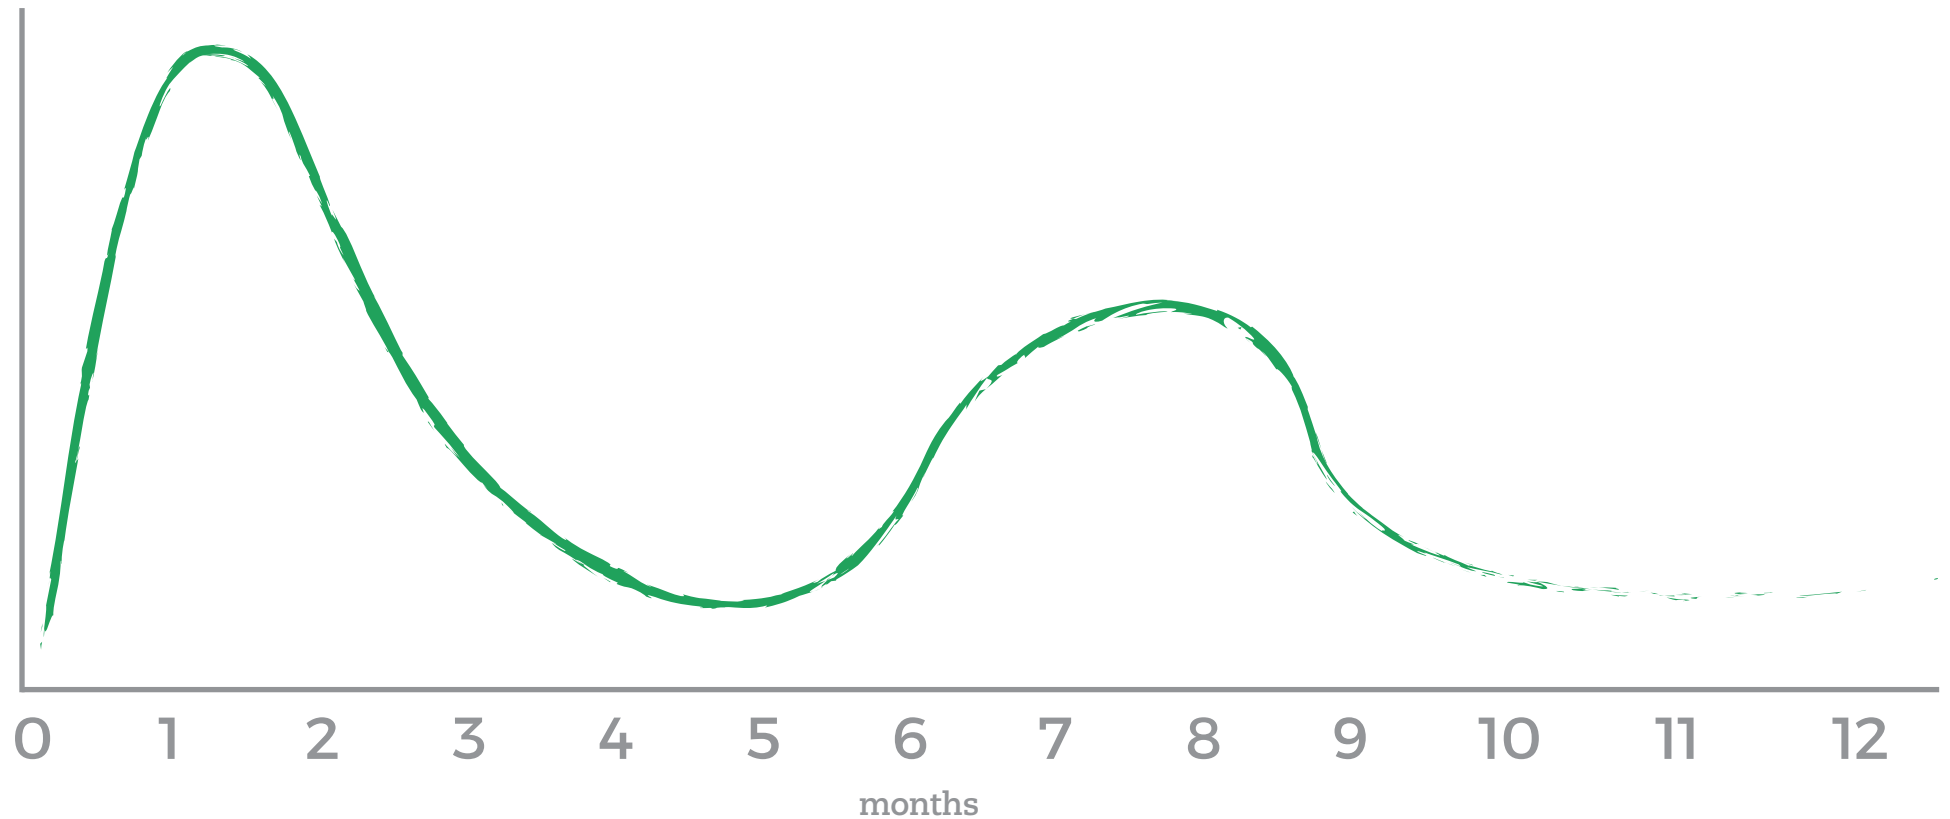

Mental health

The immediate aftermath

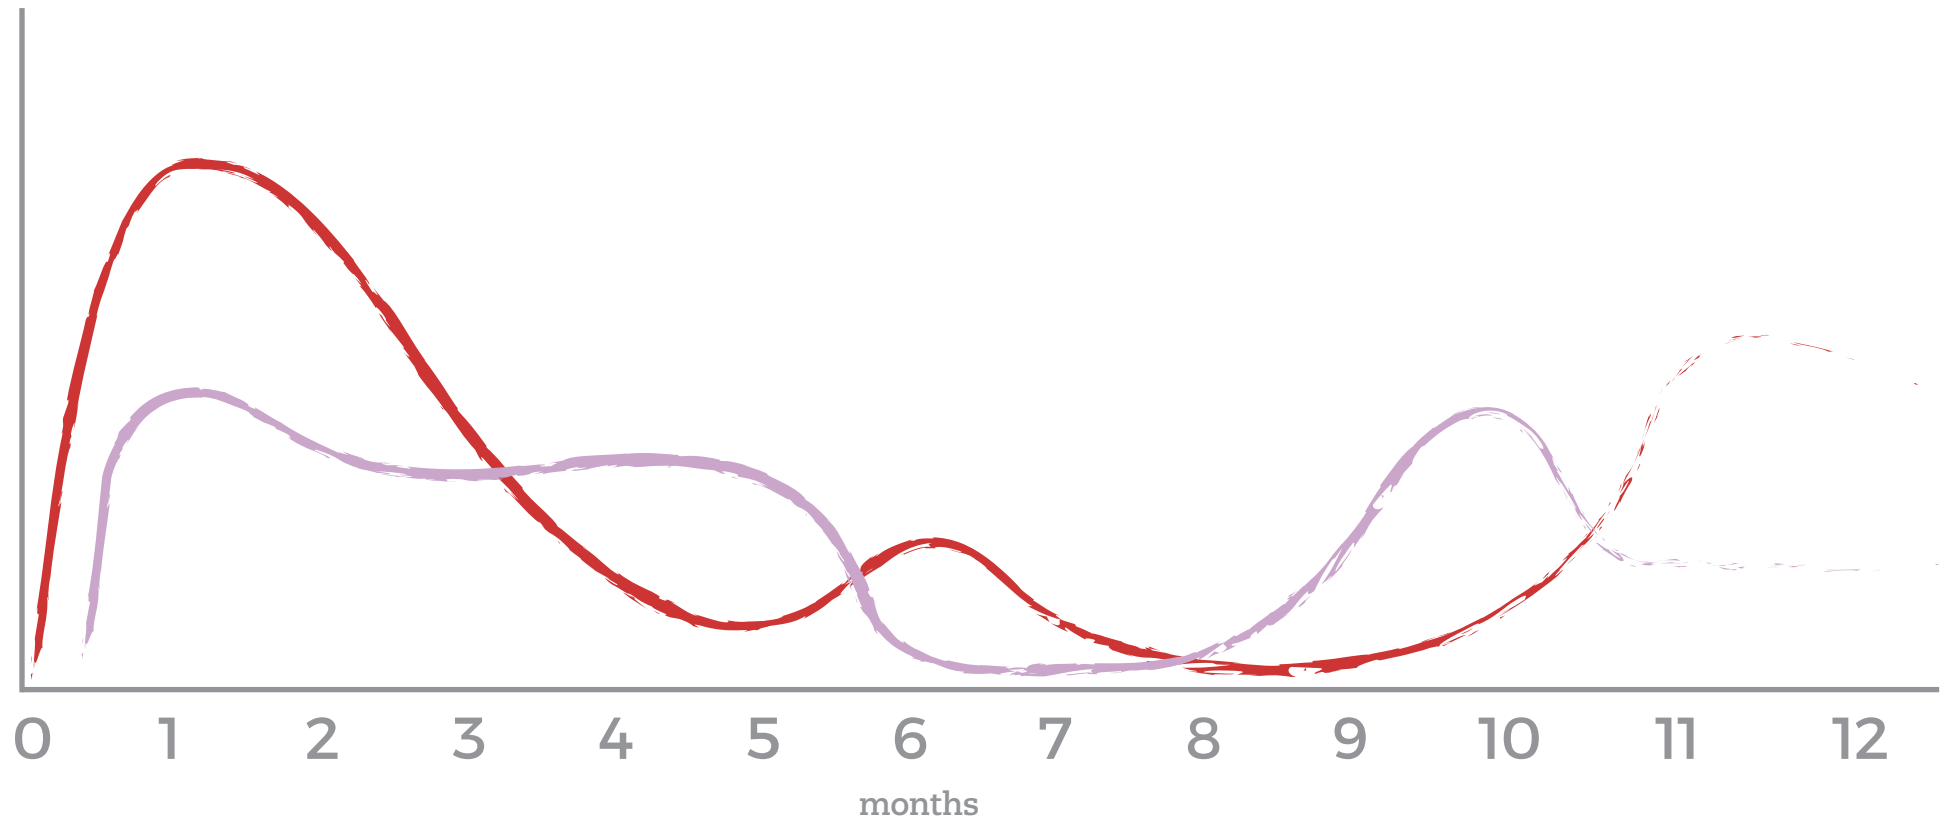

Waterborne diseases

The immediate aftermath

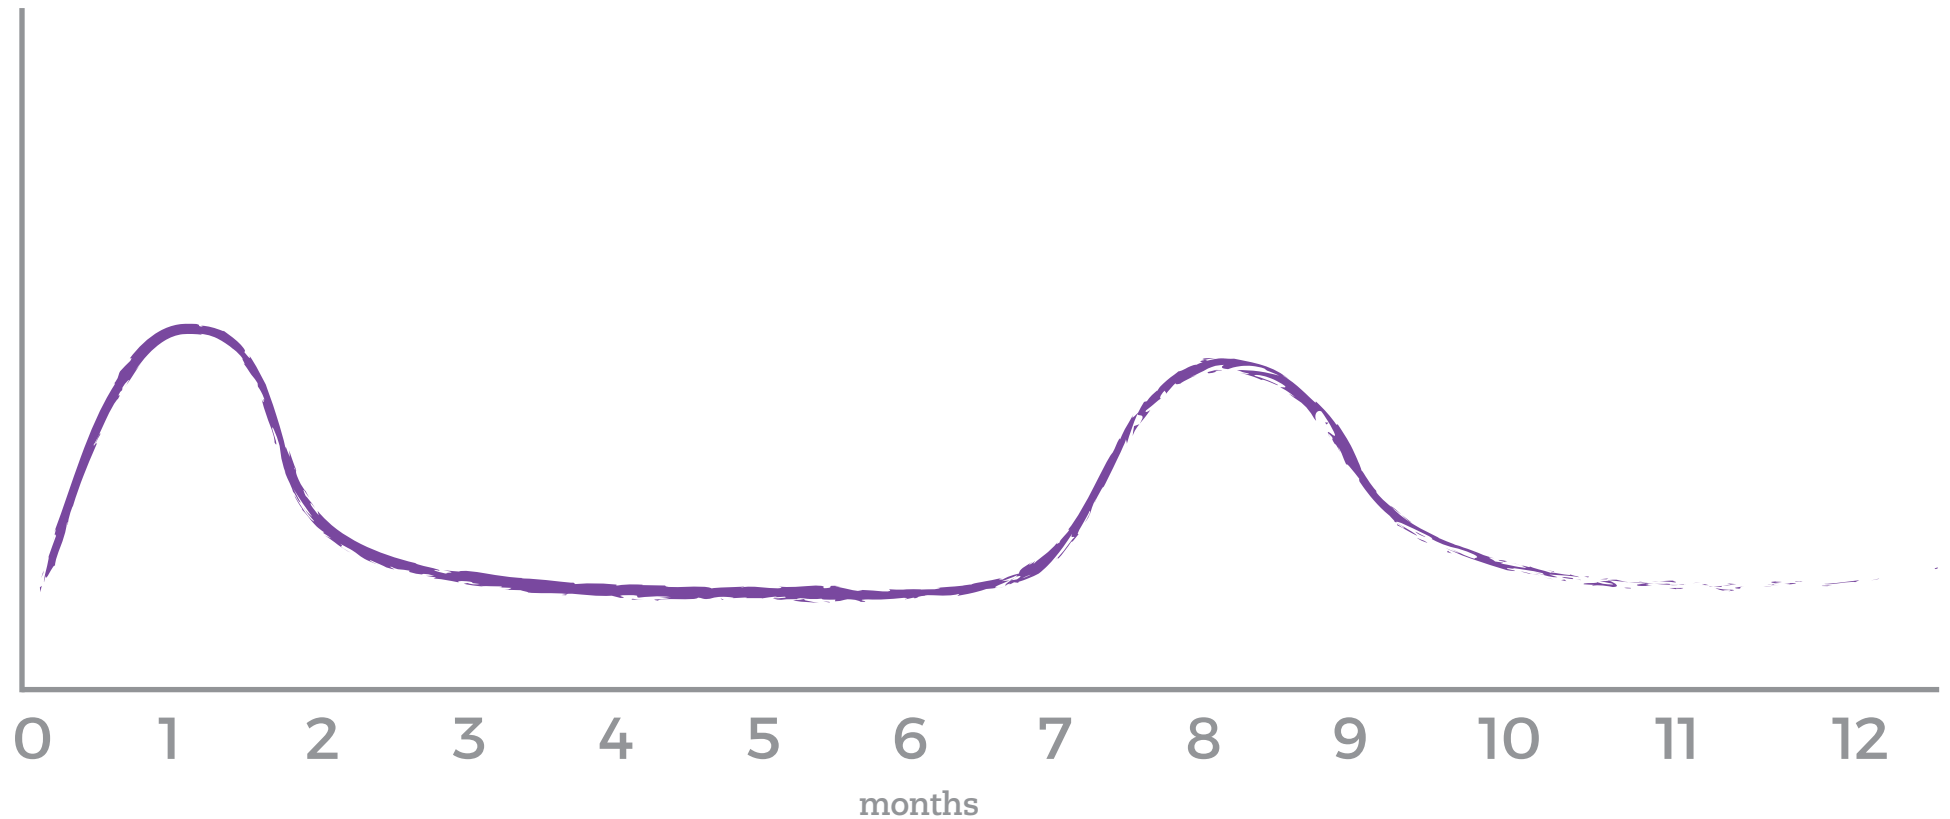

Maternal health issues and newborn births/health issues

The immediate aftermath

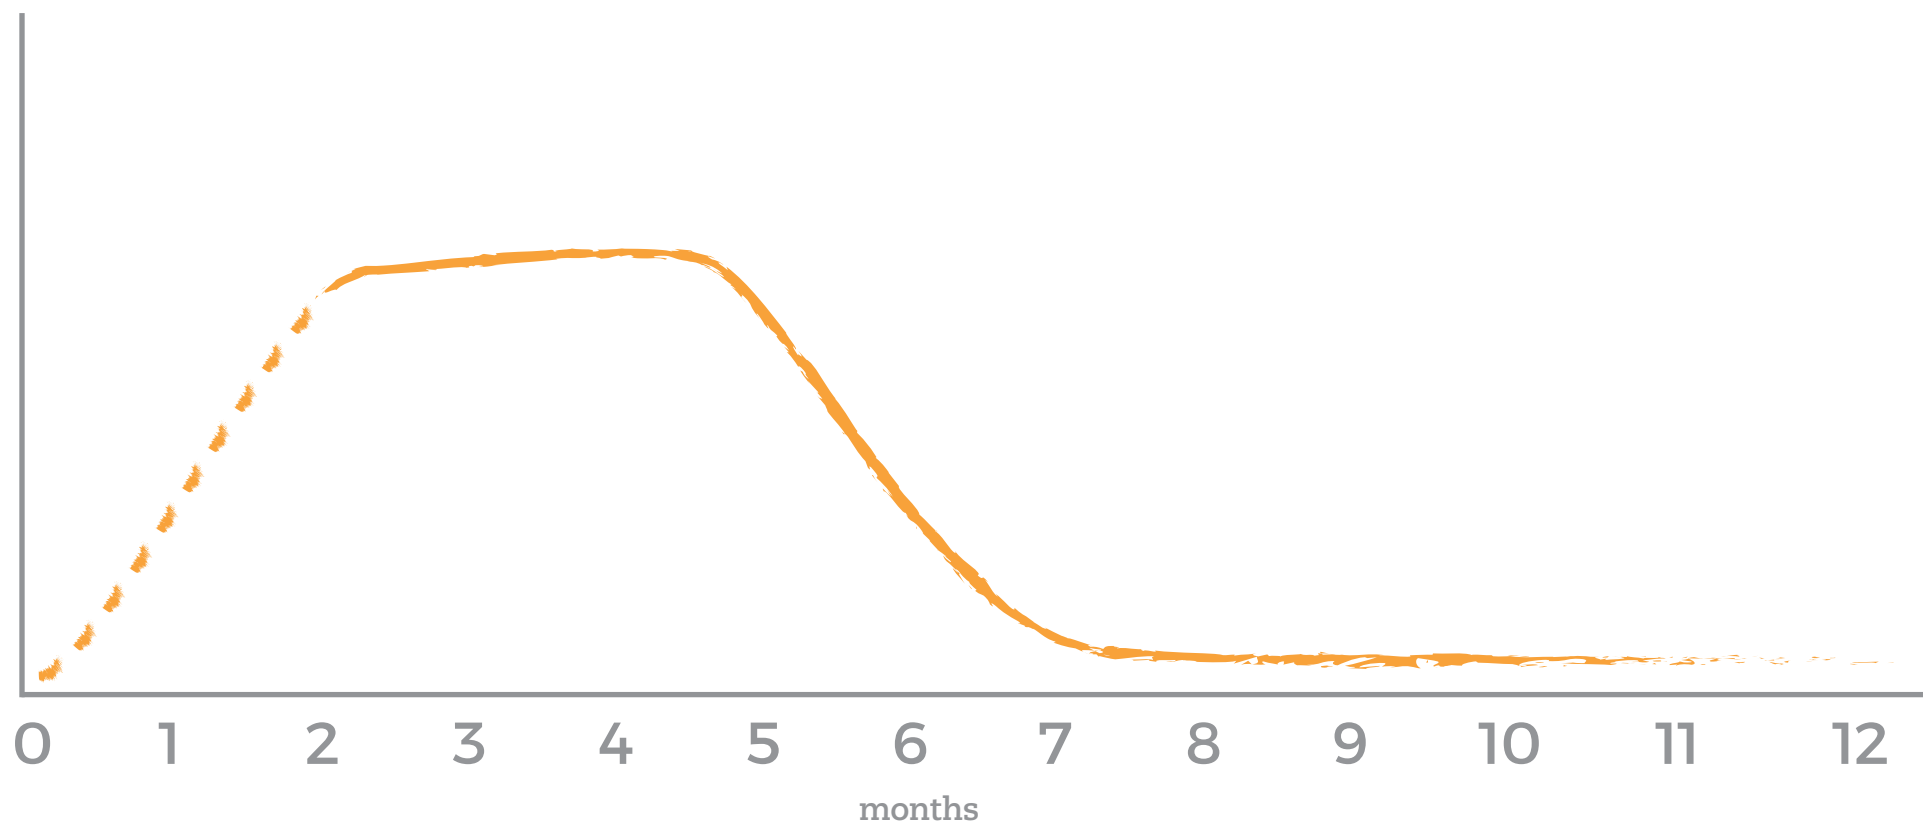

Vaccine-preventable diseases

The immediate aftermath

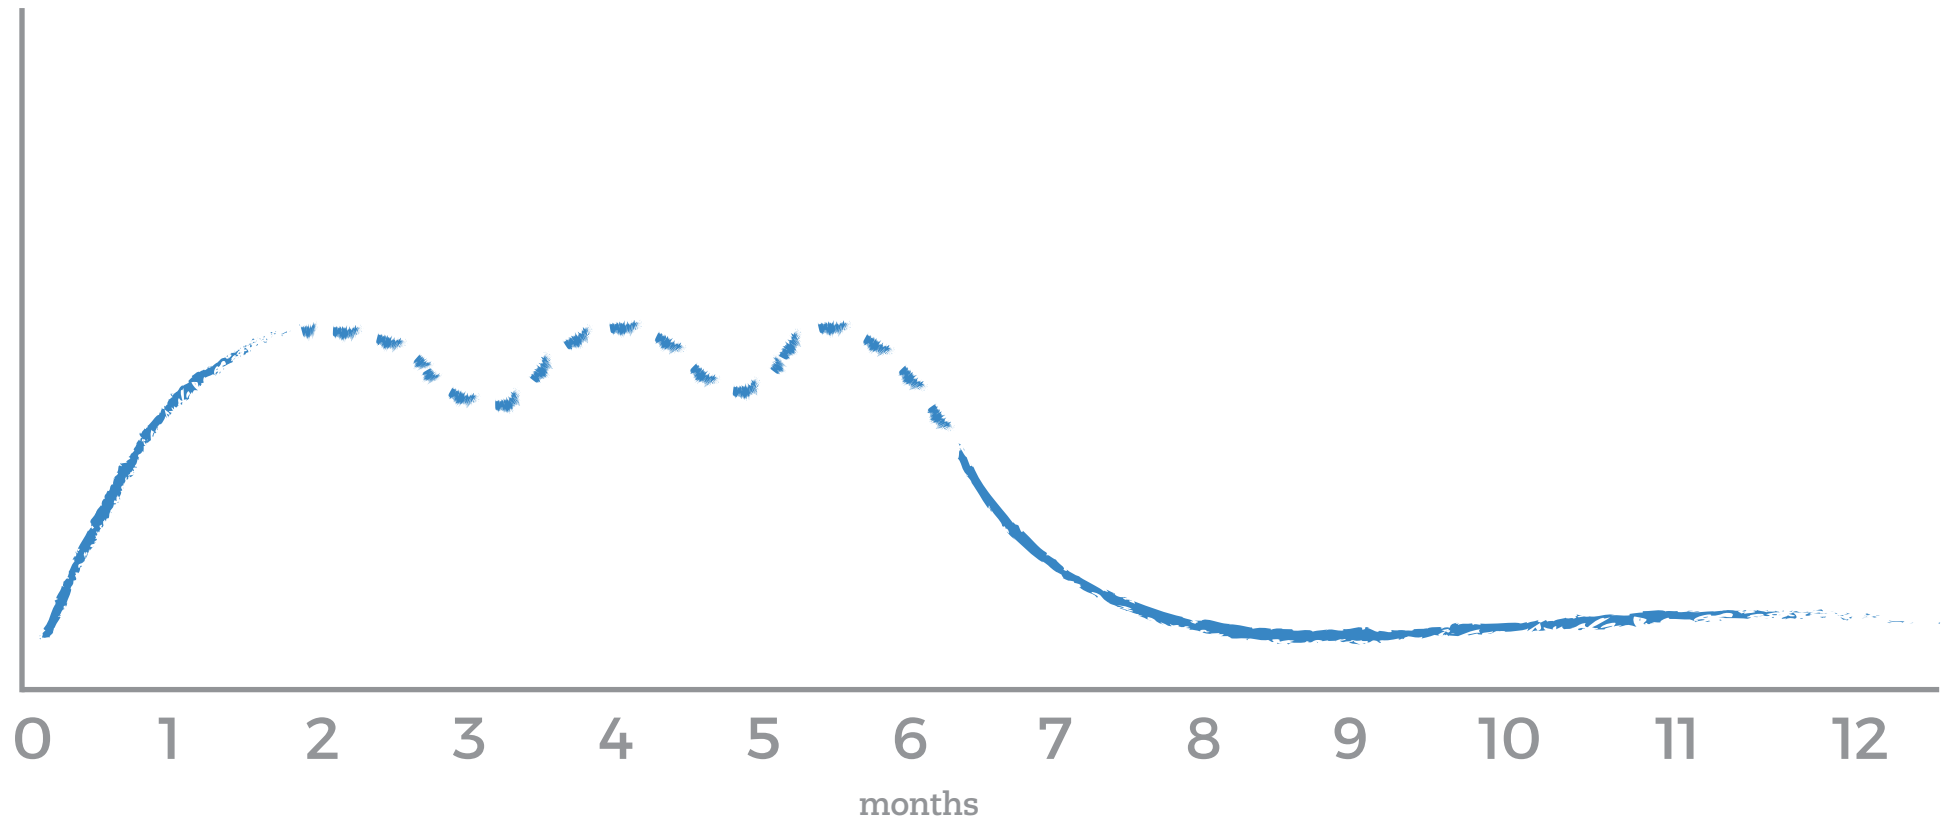

NCDs

The immediate aftermath

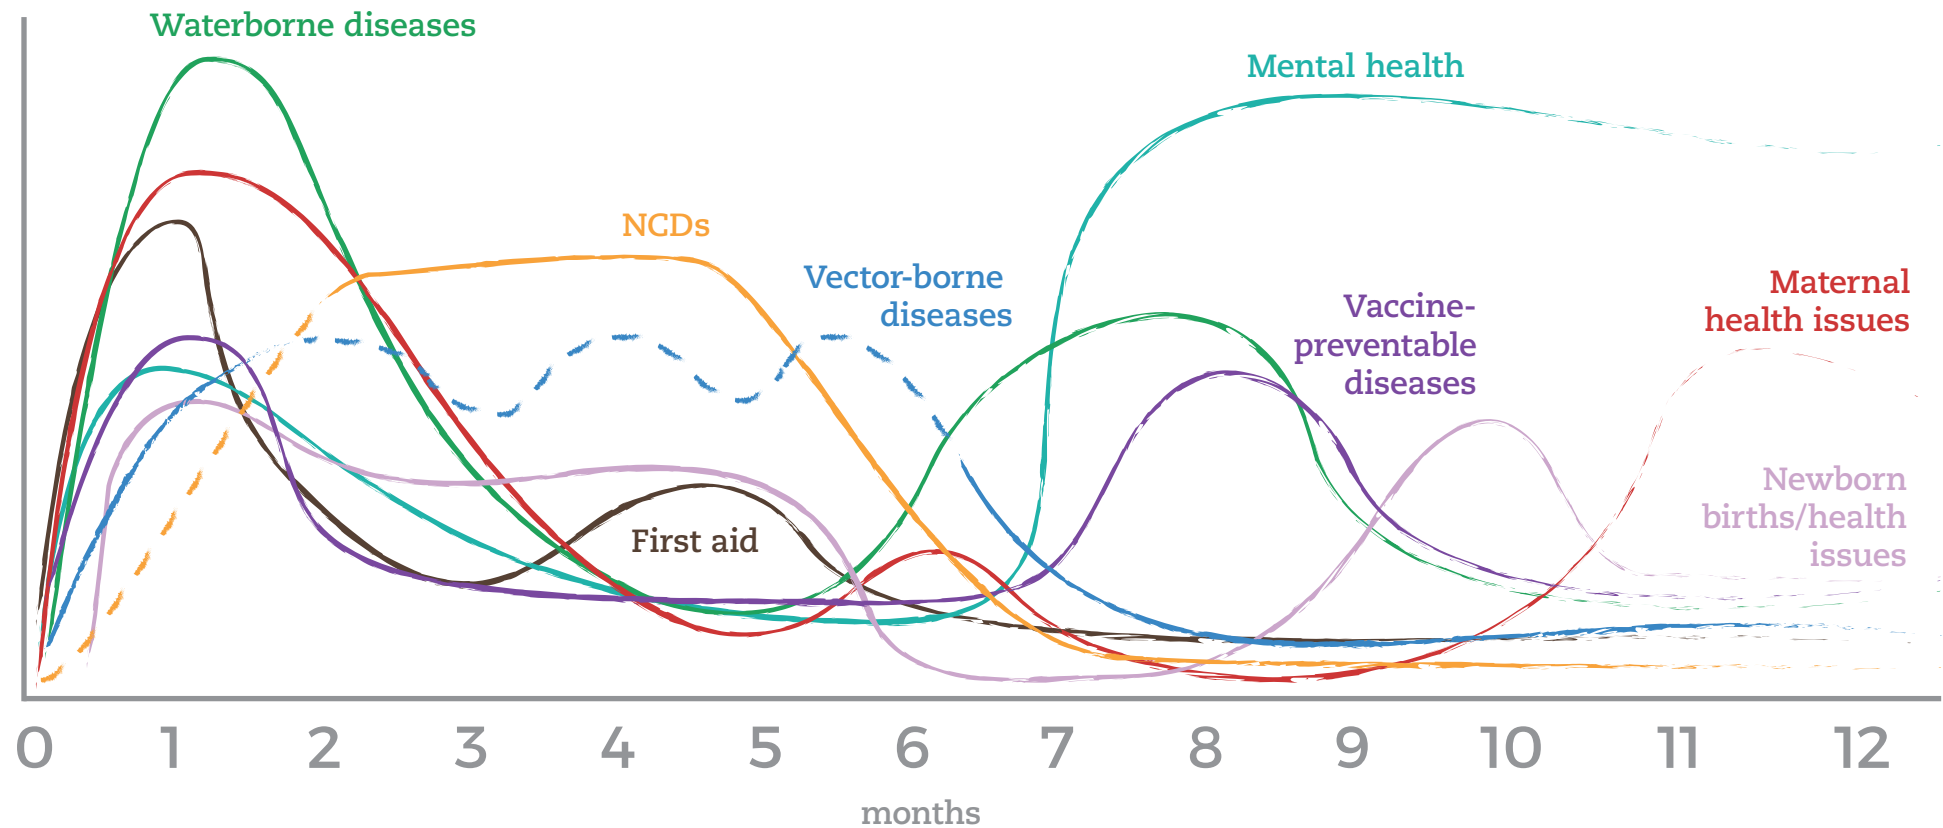

Vector-borne diseases

The immediate aftermath

Combined

eCBHFA in action

First aid

Psychological support services and protection

Road safety

Stigma and discrimination

Malaria and dengue prevention

Nutrition

Immunizations

Maternal and Newborn Health

Assessments

Disease prevention

Water, sanitation and hygiene promotion

Noncommunicable diseases

HIV and sexually transmitted diseases

Tuberculosis

Diarrhoea and dehydration

Emergency response mechanism

Ministry of Health

Coordination mechanism / WHO

Red Cross Red Crescent
National Society

Local/national emergency teams

Response teams
(staff and volunteers)

EWARS

National Disaster Response Team

Regional Disaster Response/
Regional Intervention Team

Head of Emergency Operations

Field Assessment Coordination
Team (FACT)

Public Health in Emergencies

Emergency Response Units (ERUs)

International organizations
(UNICEF, UNHCR, MSF, Oxfam, etc.)

Emergency health action game

Goal of the game

To discuss and resolve as many Event cards and Emergency event cards on the game board as possible, using Action cards from the player pads.

To resolve a card, players need to match icons on their Action cards with icons on the (Emergency) Event card. They can do this together by combining one or more Action cards and comparing them to the card they wish to resolve.

Setup

Each player gets a player pad (B). Deal an even amount of Action cards (C) to each player (dividing up the total amount by the number of players, rounding down). This forms the Action card deck which each player puts on their own player pad.

Put five Event cards (D) on top of 10 Emergency event cards (E) on top of another five Event cards to make an Event deck and place it on the game board (not shown here).

Each round...

Step 1 - Draw Event card

One player draws the top card of the Event deck and places it face-up on the game board:

- ...in the Before area if it is an Event card and there are no cards yet in the Emergency area.
- ...in the Emergency area if it is an Emergency event card.
- ...in the After area if it is an Event card and there are cards in the Emergency area.

Step 2 - Draw Action card

All players draw the top card of their own Action deck and decide where to place it: in their Available action area (green) or in their Emergency action area (red). If they place it in the Emergency action area the Action card can only be used to resolve Emergency event cards (not regular Event cards).

continued on the next page...

Contents

- A) game board (A3 size)
- B) player pads (max. 4)
- C) 50 Action cards
- D) 30 Event cards
- E) 10 Emergency event cards

Card icons educate communicate

first aid

gather info

Emergency health action game (cont.)

Step 3 - Match Event card with Action cards

Players discuss if they want to resolve any (Emergency) event cards by matching icons (   ) on their Action cards with the icons on the (Emergency) event card. When all icons are matched (even if players play Action cards with more icons than needed) the Event card is resolved and placed face-down in the Used event cards area. Used Action cards are placed face-down in the Used action cards area and can no longer be used in the game.

Example 1:

Anna and Maron are trying to resolve an Event card with two icons. They need a book and a house. Anna uses one Action card with a book and Maron uses one Action card with two houses. Even though they only needed one house they manage to resolve the Event card.

Example 2:

Anna and Maron are now faced with an Emergency event card. Anna uses two Action cards (a house and a speech bubble) and Maron uses an Action card she saved in her Emergency action area to get the remaining book. Success!

Example 3:

An Event card with two books is next but Anna only has one Action card with a book. Maron has two Action cards with books but they are in her Emergency action area so she cannot use on a regular Event card. Anna and Maron cannot resolve the Event card this round.

Step 4 - Event phase shift

Once all Event cards in the Before area have been resolved, the game shifts from before the event to the emergency event and Emergency event cards in the Emergency area can be resolved, using Action cards in both the Available action area and in the Emergency action area of the players' mats. Once all Emergency event cards in the Emergency area have been solved, Event cards from after the event can be solved, again using any Action cards in the Available action area of the player mat.

Note: If a player cannot draw any more Action cards then they can only resolve cards from this point on.

Game end

The players win or lose as a group. They all win together when all Emergency event cards are resolved. The players all lose when there are still Emergency event cards left and they have no more Action cards to resolve them.

Before

After

Emergency Health Action

GAME

 International Federation
of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

Emergency briefing

used Event cards

Emergency

used Action cards

These card backs are optional and can be printed and glued to the front sides of the cards to distinguish them from other types of cards.

Cards (back)

Health in emergencies

Print double-sided (if possible) and cut out these cards along the dotted lines.
Alternatively these can be printed separately and glued to the reverse sides of the cards.

Cards (front)

Health in emergencies

EVENT The community is asking questions about immunization.	EVENT You haven't visited the elderly and sick this week yet.	EVENT A single mother who recently lost her children is in shock.	EVENT You notice a lot of people are not washing their hands.
EVENT You realize you need more training on malaria and dengue prevention.	EVENT Several families report that their children are feeling sick.	EVENT In an accident two men ended up with a few cuts and one with a broken arm.	EVENT After the last emergency you realize you need to brush up your first aid skills.

Print double-sided (if possible) and cut out these cards along the dotted lines.
Alternatively these can be printed separately and glued to the reverse sides of the cards.

Cards (front)

Health in emergencies

EVENT There is an increase in pregnant women who have questions.	EVENT The National Society needs someone to represent eCBHFA at the community meetings.	EVENT Diarrhoea and vomiting are going around the community.	EVENT There are several wounded in the community after the recent emergency.
EVENT The community needs to know what to do in case of an emergency.	EVENT Some young people are drinking alcohol and taking drugs in the community.	EVENT Lots of people are catching colds with bad coughs.	EVENT Community concerns need to be communicated to the Ministry of Health.

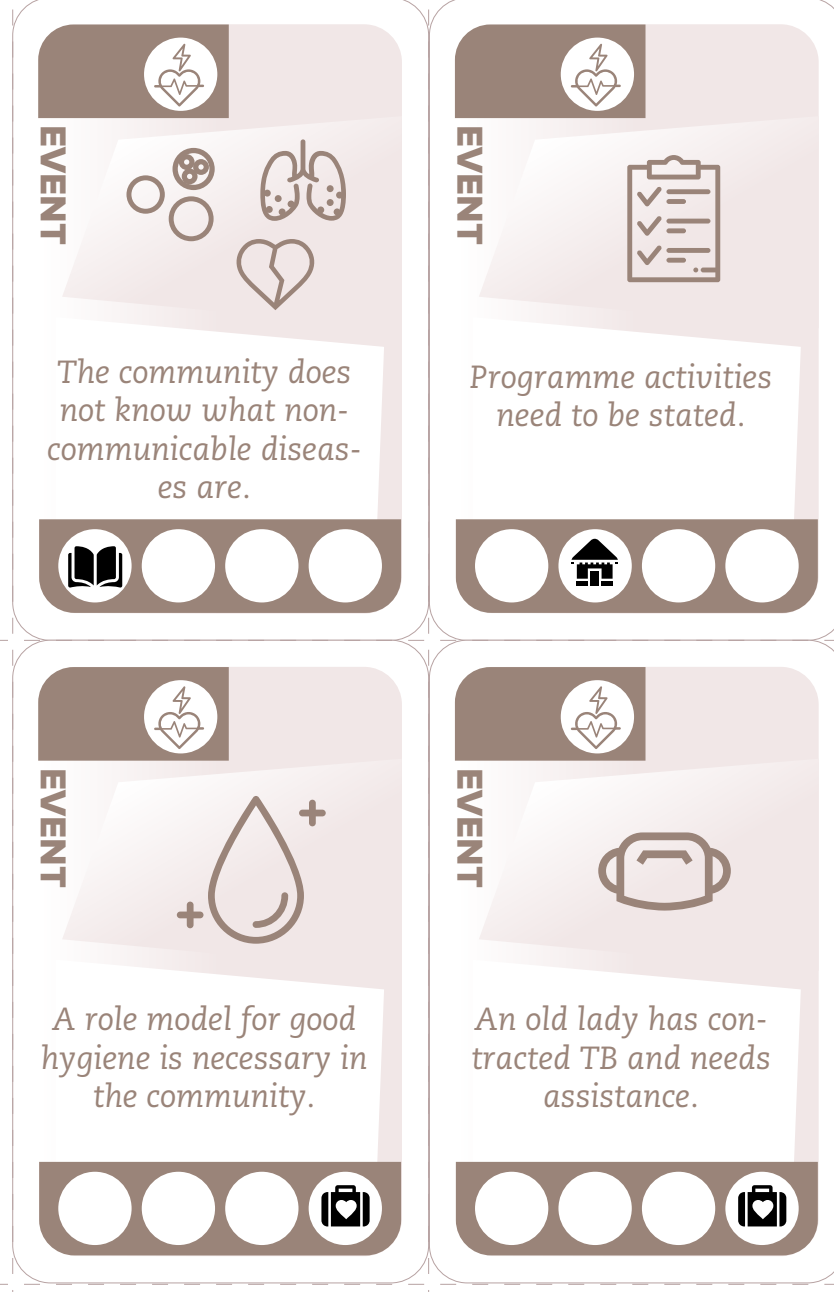

Print double-sided (if possible) and cut out these cards along the dotted lines.
Alternatively these can be printed separately and glued to the reverse sides of the cards.

Cards (front)

Health in emergencies

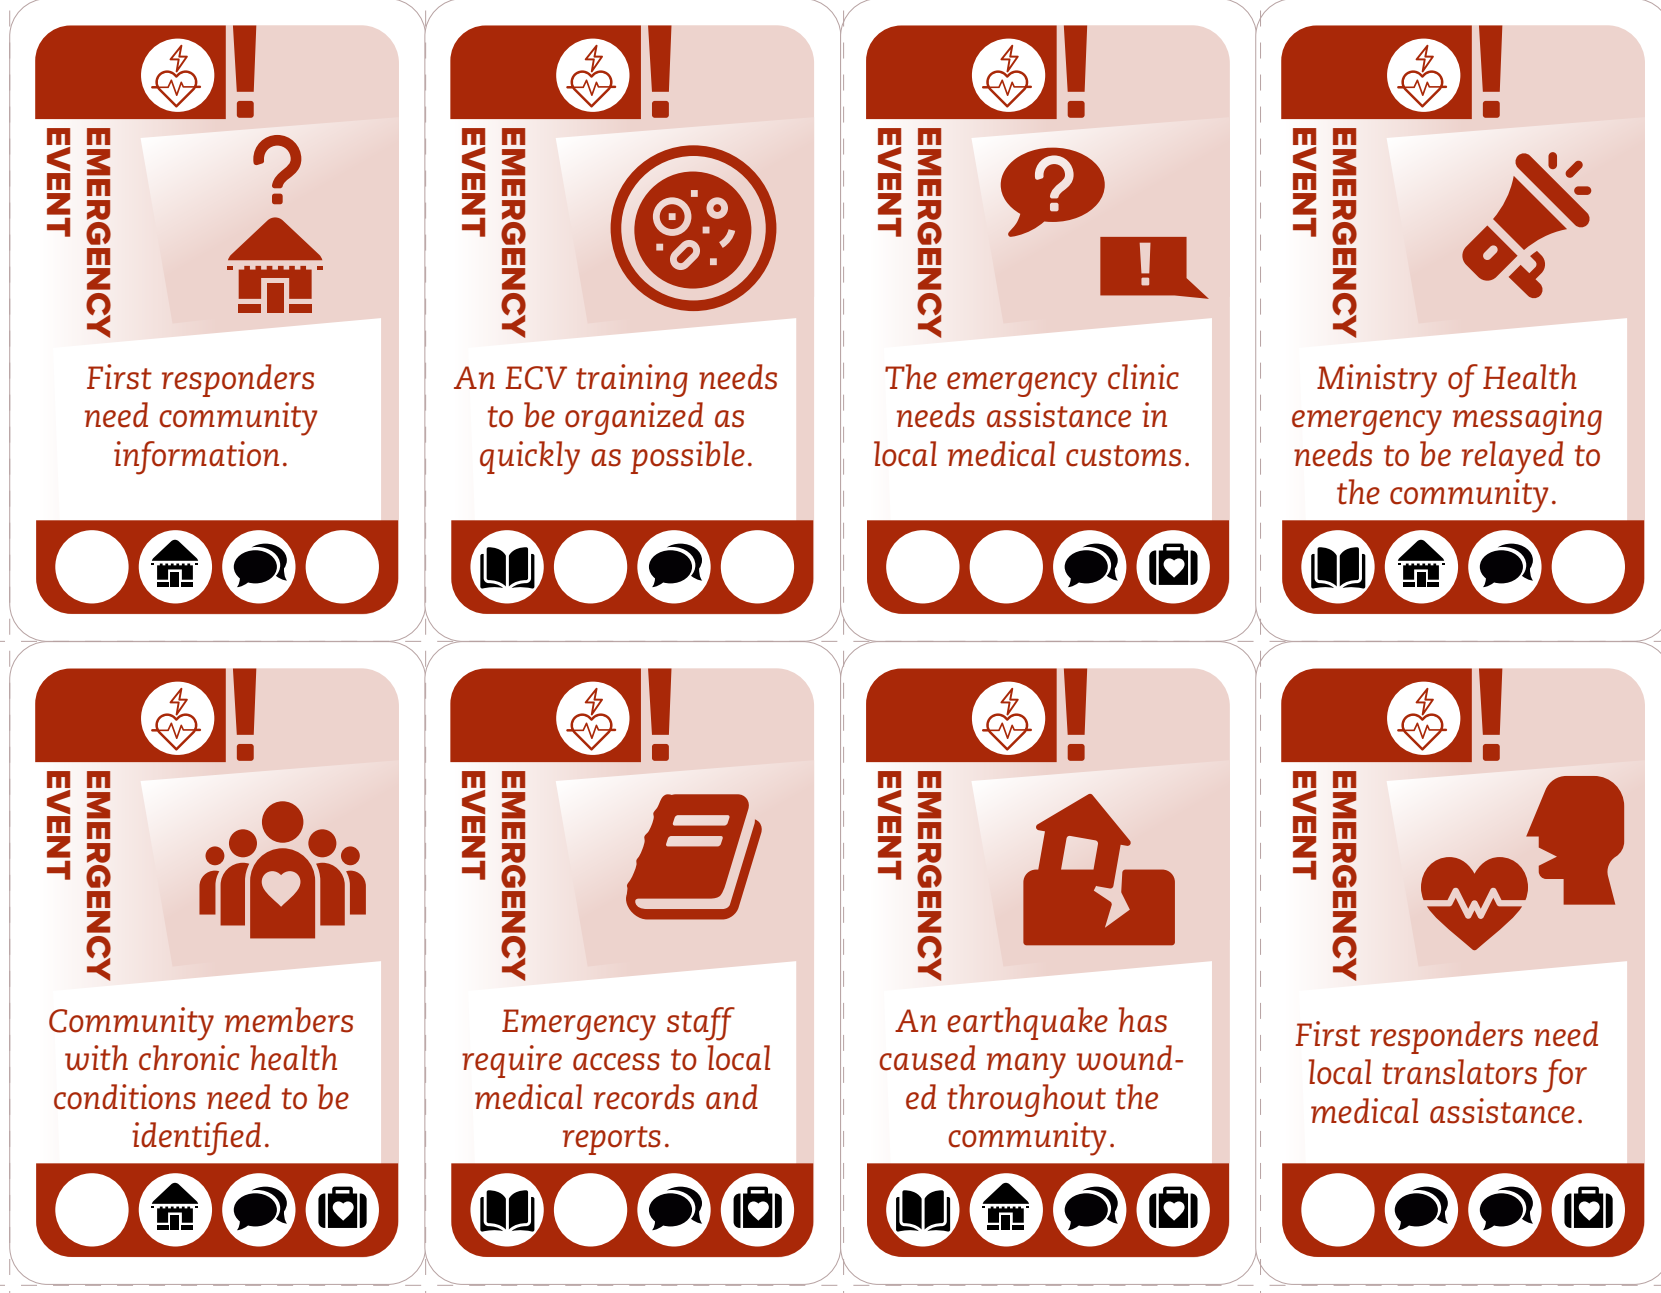

Print double-sided (if possible) and cut out these cards along the dotted lines.
Alternatively these can be printed separately and glued to the reverse sides of the cards.

Cards (front)

Health in emergencies

Print double-sided (if possible) and cut out these cards along the dotted lines.
Alternatively these can be printed separately and glued to the reverse sides of the cards.

Cards (front)

Health in emergencies

EMERGENCY EVENT

A flood is endangering the lives of many throughout the community.

EMERGENCY EVENT

There is an urgent need for the local community health and programme information.

These card backs are optional and can be printed and glued to the front sides of the cards to distinguish them from other types of cards.

Cards (back)

Health in emergencies

Cards (front)

Print double-sided (if possible) and cut out these cards along the dotted lines.
Alternatively these can be printed separately and glued to the reverse sides of the cards.

Health in emergencies

Cards (front)

Print double-sided (if possible) and cut out these cards along the dotted lines.
Alternatively these can be printed separately and glued to the reverse sides of the cards.

Health in emergencies

Cards (front)

Print double-sided (if possible) and cut out these cards along the dotted lines.
Alternatively these can be printed separately and glued to the reverse sides of the cards.

Health in emergencies

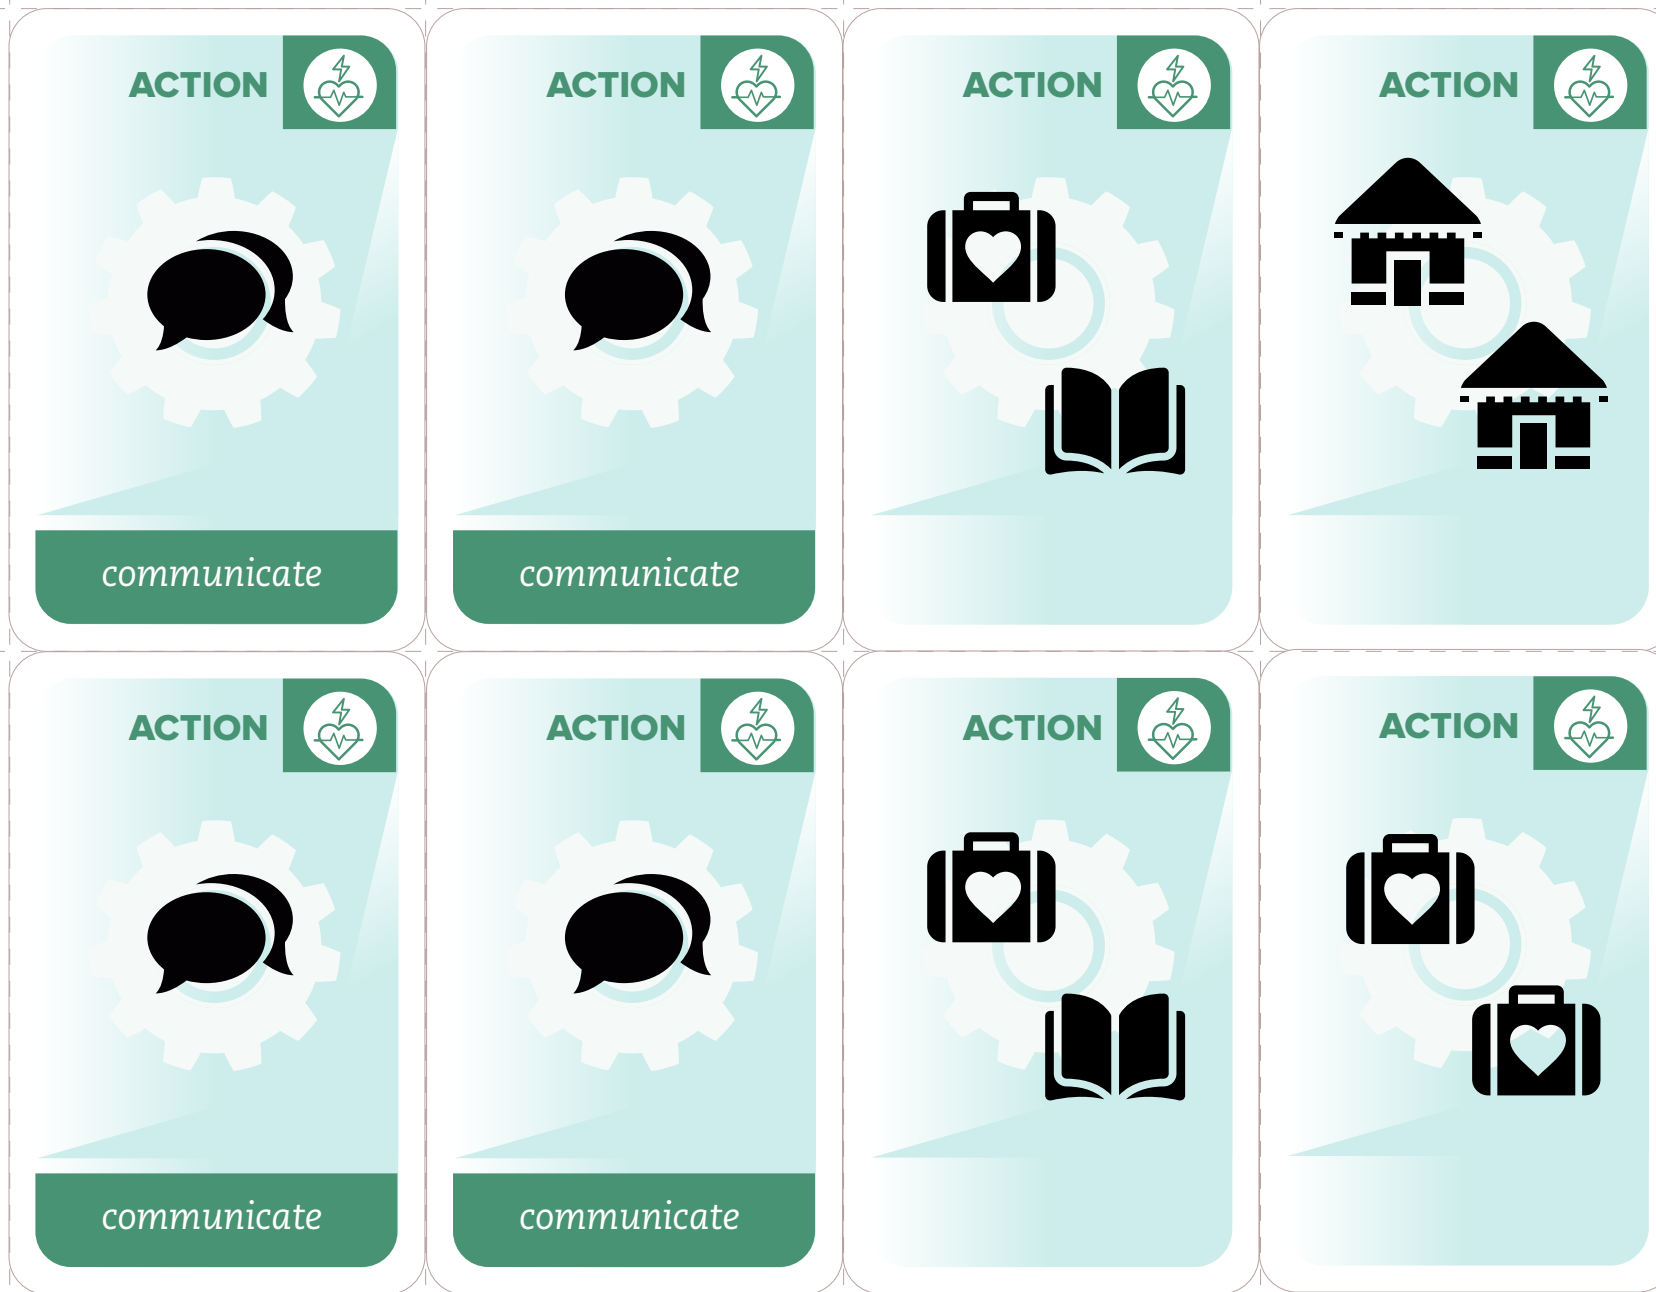

Cards (front)

Print double-sided (if possible) and cut out these cards along the dotted lines.
Alternatively these can be printed separately and glued to the reverse sides of the cards.

Health in emergencies

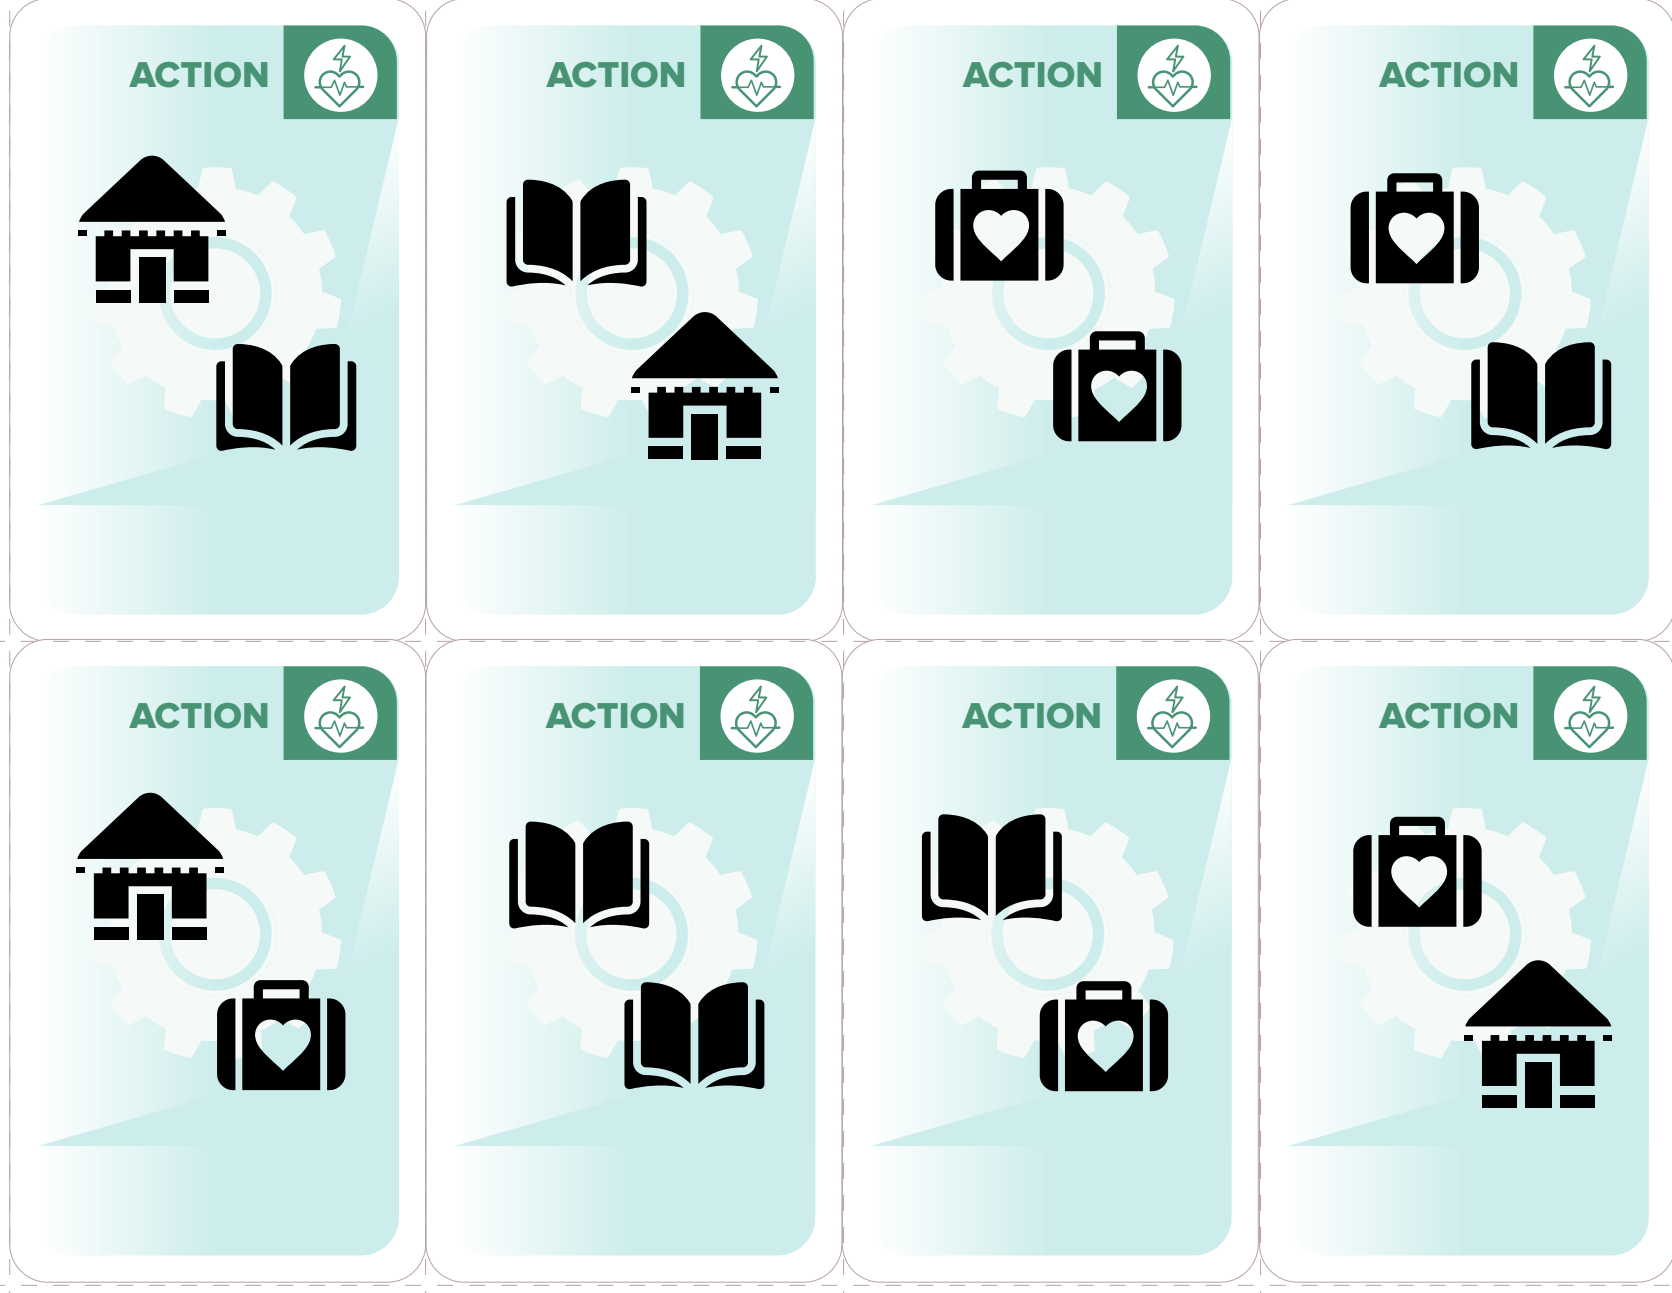

Cards (front)

Print double-sided (if possible) and cut out these cards along the dotted lines.
Alternatively these can be printed separately and glued to the reverse sides of the cards.

Health in emergencies

Cards (front)

Print double-sided (if possible) and cut out these cards along the dotted lines.
Alternatively these can be printed separately and glued to the reverse sides of the cards.

Health in emergencies

Print double-sided (if possible) and cut out these cards along the dotted lines.
Alternatively these can be printed separately and glued to the reverse sides of the cards.

Cards (front)

Health in emergencies

